

THE IMPORTANCE OF HUSBAND'S SUPPORT IN MAINTAINING THE DISTANCE OF BIRTH OF CHILDREN

Wiwin Tri Setiawan, Indarwati, Siti Fatmawati
Wiwintrisetiawan.15@gmail.com
Universitas 'Aisyiyah Surakarta

SUMMARY

Background: The results of the basic survey on Indonesian Health (IDHS) show an increase in the maternal mortality rate (MMR) in Indonesia. One of the causes of the increase in maternal mortality is during childbirth. shows that there are several problems in reducing maternal mortality in Indonesia. Husband support is an important role to play in preventing maternal mortality and maintaining ideal birth spacing. The husband's role in determining the contraceptive tool or method to use.

Purpose: to provide information regarding the importance of keeping birth spacing in order to maintain the health of the mother and the fetus that will be born. Method:

using a poster output, entitled "The importance of husband's support in maintaining child birth spacing". Conclusion: posters contain the importance of spacing births, the impact of spacing too close births, and the types of support that can be given.

Keywords: Support, Birth Distance, Poster