

PLAYING LEGO ON SOFT MOTORIC DEVELOPMENT FOR YOUNG CHILDREN (3-6 YEARS) THROUGH BOOKLET MEDIA

Hanida Miftahuljanah

Hanidamifta26@gmail.com

‘Aisyiyah Surakarta University

SUMMARY

Background: More than 200 millions children under five years in the world can't fulfill their potential. Soft motoric development problem cause the children have issues with others, do not have any chances to act normally like others. Many parents are worried because their children have motoric development delays. Increased motoric development in early childhood can be stimulated in various activities according to age. One of ways to stimulate soft motoric development on children is by playing lego. Method: Booklet entitled "playing lego for soft motoric development on young children (3-6 years)" is taken as a communication tool in giving information to parents with young children. Result: The result of this project is booklet contains of clear information with supporting image as the education media for parents with young children to stimulate soft motoric development on their children by using lego. Conclusion: booklet media can provide information especially for parents with young children about playing lego towards soft motorik development for young children (3-6 years) and how to apply them.

Keywords: Soft motoric development, playing lego, booklet