

PARENT PARENTING EDUCATION TO INCREASE CONFIDENCE IN PRE-SCHOOL AGE CHILDREN THROUGH BOOKLET MEDIA

*Ripti Handayani¹, Dewi Kartika Sari²
RiptiHandayani53@gmail.com
'Aisyiyah Surakarta Univercity*

SUMMARY

Background; The golden age of development at the pre-school age should be a serious concern among primary educators, namely parents. Because this period is an easy time to shape a child's personality. Parents have a very important role in every stage of a child's development. Problems that arise in children who have the wrong parenting, among others, low self-confidence, tend to be quiet and difficult to socialize with the surrounding environment. Destination; This final project is to increase knowledge of mothers about efforts to increase self-confidence with appropriate parenting methods through booklet media. Method; This final project is a self-made project in accordance with the references obtained in journals and books, the media used is booklets. Results; The output of this final project in the form of a booklet entitled "Tips to increase the confidence of pre-school age children with the right parenting pattern" is expected to benefit the community, especially mothers who have pre-school-aged children. Conclusion; With the problem of wrong parenting, the researchers provided education through booklets. This media is very effective to increase parents' knowledge about parenting of pre-school age children. Parenting method. with this education can increase self-confidence in pre-school age children.

Keywords; Pre-school age children, Parenting, booklet