

EDUCATION IN PREPARING FOR LANDSLIDE DISASTERS IN COMMUNITIES THROUGH BOOKLET MEDIA

Nur Hayati¹, Fida'Husain²

nurhayaatii69@gmail.com

Universitas `Aisyiyah Surakarta

SUMMARY

Background : In Boyolali Regency, from 2022 to 2023, there were 117 landslides with the number of residents affected being 4,386. Lack of knowledge regarding disaster preparedness causes casualties and injuries to humans and animals. educational efforts using booklets that are interesting and easy to understand, apart from that this booklet displays steps to prepare for landslides. Objective: To provide information that can help enhance community knowledge about preparedness for landslides. Method: The information was conveyed through an educational booklet on preparedness for facing landslides. Results: The output booklet titled "Preparedness for Facing Landslide Disasters" consists of 14 page and has been tested with three community respondents, yielding results that indicate the booklet is easy to understand and can be read multiple times, as the materials used for the booklet are durable. Conclusion: It can be concluded that the output booklet effectively disseminates information to the community to ensure proper preparedness when a landslide disaster occurs.

Keywords : Preparedness, Landslide, Booklet Media