THE IMPLEMENTATION OF BOOKLETS AS A MEDIA OF INFORMATION SERVICES ABOUT HOW TO BATH THE BABY GOOD AND CORRECT IN THE COMMUNITY

SUMMERY/ESSENCE

Background: Being a new mother is not easy. There are many new lessons that you should slowly learn to take care of your baby properly. One of the jobs that are classified as many new mothers fear is when they have to bathe the baby. The physical condition of the baby who is still frail makes the mother afraid to bathe the baby (Alawiyah, 2018). Purpose: To provide efforts to increase knowledge about bathing babies that are good and right for the community. Methods: Using the booklet entitled "Anti-Panic, Bathing Babies Properly". Conclusion: The 16-page booklet contains definitions, objectives, things that need to be prepared, the process of doing it, things that should not be done, as well as tips for bathing babies. Supported also with attractive pictures and easy to understand material. With this booklet, it is hoped that mothers can increase their knowledge about how to bathe babies properly. So that mothers are not afraid to bathe their babies themselves.
