

COLORING PLAY EDUCATION AS STIMULATION OF FINE MOTOR DEVELOPMENT IN PRESCHOOL CHILDREN THROUGH BOOKLET MEDIA

Amalia Rais Salsabilla

Diploma III of Health Sciences Faculty of Health Sciences Diploma III Study
Programme 'Aisyiyah University Surakarta
Email: amaliarais3@gmail.com

---

ESSENCE

Background: The most critical part of child development is fine motor development in preschool, since they continue to learn to move particular body part and are exercised through tiny muscles, such as finger techniques and appropriate wrist motions, with very significant exercises appropriate for preschoolers to cultivate fine motor skills. This coloring exercise will allow children to get accustomed to random coloring practices, selecting color according to their own choice to color a blank picture area has its own instructional benefit and is very useful for students fine motor skills growth. Method: The complete, systematic, and fascinating presentation of this booklet. Create media for booklets using Microsoft Word. Result: The media of the booklet will educate society, particularly parents who play coloring as a trigger for fine motor development with children of pre-school age. Conclusion: One of the fine motor developments of infants, which is drawing, may be supported by parents of preschool children.

Keywords: Coloring play, Stimulation, motor development, Booklet.