

STROKE PATIENT CARE GUIDELINES AT HOME FOR THE FAMILY POCKETBOOK MEDIA

Arnita Waluya
arnitarajendra@gmail.com
Aisyiyah University Surakarta

SUMMARY

Background; Stroke is a major health problem for society. The effect of a sudden stroke attack will possibly result in physical disability even death. The prevalence of stroke in Central Java is 12.3%. The impact of a stroke can affect the patient's life and lead to his/her depending on other people. How we handle stroke patients at home is very important for the family to know to solve the problems that are experienced by the patient and the problems experienced by the family. Method; The method from KIE that is used, was in the form of a pocketbook containing about stroke, the role of families in caring for stroke at home. Result; The resulting media is in the form of a pocketbook entitled Guidelines for stroke care at home which contains clear information, and easy to carry anywhere. Conclusion; This pocketbook created to increase the reader's knowledge about how to treat a stroke at home and make it easier for the author to provide information to families who have stroke patients and also the public about how to taking care of post-stroke. Keywords: Stroke, Treatment Stroke, Pocketbook