

ABSTRACT

Windha Mayasari NIM C2015110 Undergraduate Program Of Nursing	Consellor 1. Anjar Nurrohmah, S.Kep, Ns,M.Kep. 2. Erika Dewi Noorartri,S.Kep, Ns,M.Kep.
DESCRIPTION OF CHARACTERISTICS AND STRESS LEVELS IN THE AKAP BUS DRIVER IN THE TIRTONADI TERMINAL
ABSTRACT
Background: bus drivers are jobs that are vulnerable to stress. Stress is a subjective experience that is based on a person's perception of the situation facing him. The stress experienced by the driver will lead to feelings of apathy, indifference and irresponsibility so that it can cause accidents. Objective: describe the characteristics and levels of work stress on the AKAP bus driver at Tirtonadi Terminal. Method: This type of research includes descriptive quantitative research. Sampling using the purpose sample method with a sample of 93 respondents with research instruments using stress level questionnaires. analysis using Univariate Test. Results: The results of the descriptive analysis can be seen that all drivers of akap bus respondents are the majority of advanced adulthood, high school education, working period &gt; 5 years, marital status ie mating and stress level which is low. Conclusion: the stress level in the majority of drivers is low stress levels and at least moderate stress levels
Keywords: Characteristics of AKAP bus drivers, work stress levels	